Fishing with Capable Partners Members Scheduled for June 12

Our chapter's annual fishing day with members of Capable Partners will be on Sunday, June 12 at Baker Park, Lake Independence. For years now we've been taking the physically challenged but exceptionally eager Muskie anglers from the Capable Partners organization out for a morning of fishing followed by a great shore lunch. It's your chance to get in some muskie fishing and to meet some amazing individuals from Capable Partners. If you don't have your own boat, come out to volunteer and we'll pair you up with someone. Contact Paul Hartman (763-786-6031) for information or to let him know you'll be coming.

Strong Effort Needed for Raffle Ticket Sales

from John Newman, Jr., Raffle Chair

Great News! As I write this update, Twin Cities Chapter members have raised enough money to pay for the expenses of conducting our raffle. We now have $3,500 available to purchase muskies for stocking. It's a good start, but we have a long way to go to reach our goal of $12,500.

The fish we have targeted for purchase are two year olds. By fall they should be 18-20 inches long, giving them an excellent chance of survival when they are stocked in White Bear Lake. They cost $25 each and reaching our goal of $12,500 will enable us to stock 500 fish.

By the time you read this update there will only be a month to go before the raffle. We need everyone to make one last effort to help us reach our goal. If every member sold even one more ticket, it would bring in an additional $800.

If you haven't returned your stubs and money, please do so as soon as possible. If you sell 40 tickets and turn them in before the June 14th membership meeting, you'll be eligible for the incentive prize drawing.

Thanks again for all your efforts so far. Your continued efforts will help us exceed our goal. And remember, support the donors who have generously supported our club. Without them we would not be able to raise the money to continue our stocking efforts.

IMPORTANT: If you have elected not to participate in the fundraising effort, it is still necessary for you to return your tickets. Minnesota state law requires us to account for every ticket, even those not sold.

For more tickets contact me, John Newman, at (651) 699-8676.

From Our President

SHAWN KELLETT

14 Days and counting until the Minnesota opener as I write this (come on and get here already!!!!!!).

It seems like everyone I talk to is chomping at the bit to get out and do some muskie fishing. We've all bought countless new "magic" lures. Rods and reels that will do all the work for us have been purchased with the new and improved lines already spooled and ready to go. I don't know about you all, but I keep on changing my mind as to which lure will get the call first. No matter which one gets the call, in the end it's all about having fun on the water.

There are a couple things I wanted to bring up in relation to having a positive on-the-water experience. One is individual ethics to others on the water. I think we've all been fishing a point, reef, or shoreline only to have someone run right up, plop down and start fishing right in front of us. I know it happens to me far too often. As much as I know that it shouldn't bug me, it really gets me fired-up sometimes. But, it really gets me going when the person knows what they have done and are rude about it as well. What I would really like is for everyone to try to be more aware of their surroundings and to be more aware of the others you're sharing the water with this year, myself included.

Try to treat other fisherman, recreational boaters and lakeshore home owners like you would like to be treated. Would you like it if someone cut you off on the lake? Would you like it if a steady parade of people were smacking your dock with muskie baits (I've been guilty of this one)? Most of us have MI stickers on our boats and, in my opinion, that means we should be setting the standard for good sportsmanship, on-the-water ethics and respect for everyone on the lake.

Everyone knows that with the increase in people fishing muskies, there is getting to be more and more fishing traffic on our limited muskie lakes. If you see someone fishing a point, shoreline, etc. that you would like to fish, good etiquette would dictate that you either go somewhere else or go behind the person that's fishing the area. It is NOT OK to drop in front of them, even if you think that you've "given them enough room." A good minimum distance would be 2-3 casts behind the lead boat. If you see that you've dropped in on someone, I would advise that you acknowledge to the other party you realize that you dropped in and immediately move out of the area. Going behind the original boat would probably be acceptable as well. Be respectful of others and you will be respected.

The second thing I would like to bring up is something I've had many, many people bring to my attention. There seems to be a problem on some of our lakes with known and unknown "muskie guys" that are "pike fishing" with muskie tackle before the season opener. I'm not going to get on a high horse saying how someone can or can't fish. I will say to the people who are pre-fishing muskie under the "pike" guise: You're not fooling anyone. We all know there isn't a pike population worth a darn on lakes like Harriet and French, for example, but there's people throwing Jackpots, Suicks, and other large muskie baits starting with the fishing opener. All I can say is that enough people have been on me to bring this up, so here it is. Also, all those people who have been on me to bring it up have also said that they'd be out in force with their T.I.P. phone number handy to turn in people who are getting a head start on the season.

The most wonderful time of the year is upon us. Stay safe, be respectful and STICK A PIG!!!!!!!!!!!!

It's YOUR Muskies Inc!!!!!!!!

John Newman (right), Project and Rearing Fund Chairperson, presented a check for $700 to Treasurer Steve Hedensten at our May members meeting. The money was raised at the PMTT tournament April 16 & 17 at Cave Run Lake, Kentucky. John addressed the group in a discussion about the perception that tournament anglers never give back to the resource. PMTT participants from all over the country purchased tickets for our chapter's Project and Rearing Fund Raffle to help stock White Bear Lake this fall. They were participating because all the proceeds are dedicated to conserving our muskie resource.

Twin Cities Chapter Kids Fishing Contest

The purpose of the KIDS FISHING CONTEST is to have fun, to go fishing with a child and to help the child learn about the different species of fish. Children who are members or have a parent or guardian who is a member of the Twin Cities Chapter and are age 12 or younger as of January 1, 2005 are eligible to participate. The rules are simple. All fish must be caught by using legal means and the fish must be witnessed by a parent or another adult.

An award will be given to every child who:

- Catches a bluegill, perch, or sunfish; white bass, black or white crappie; catfish, bullhead, or carp; smallmouth bass, largemouth bass, walleye or sauger; or northern pike of any size.

Special note will be made for catches of:

- 5 or more bluegills, perch and/or sunfish in one day.
- A catfish, bullhead or carp; or a smallmouth bass, largemouth bass, walleye or sauger of 12 inches or more.

Vet's Home Opener – 2005

from Juris Ozols

“Christmas Eve – I couldn't sleep!” That's what one of the vets told our own Brad Coyne as Brad netted his first fish. “I was so excited last night I couldn't sleep!”

How many of us Muskie Inc'rs feel the same way about going Muskie fishing for the first time in the spring? Well, I don't know, but our “Vets Home Opener” sure means a lot to the old warriors at the Minnesota Veteran's Home.

Our chapter has been putting on the event now for sixteen years with the support and partnership of over twenty local VFW and American Legion posts. The great folks at Mendota Vasatka VFW Post 6690 have been especially generous over the years. Dozens of volunteers are always on hand to help out. And the hundreds of trout in that pond always seem to cooperate by getting caught

I personally enjoyed taking photos and reporting on the doings in this, my sixth year, just as much as the previous five. Once again I got to see Wayne Smead, a man who has been known to pull a dozen fish out of the pond.

I got to see Navy man Gary Sargent get one of the “Big Fish” in the pond, and hear about the even bigger fish he caught earlier in his fishing career.

Marvin Traver also pulled in a big one, and then: “Marv, when was the last time you caught a fish?”

“Just now!” with a big smile.

He cracked all of us up. The man obviously has a sense of humor undiminished by the years.

Lacy, nine years old now, was there again, wearing a Muskies Inc. hat and showing – “That big,” with arms spread – how she caught the biggest fish last year.

Other things: Tom Lund worked the new deep friers to cook up the best fish fries ever for the “shore lunch.” Lots and lots of compliments on that, and indeed on all the food we fixed up. Larry Proskin cried once again – he seems to always end up slicing the onions. Dennis and Carol Heath were at the filleting table even before the fishing started, and must have put the knife to a hundred trout. Matt Olson showed up a bit late, but just in time to save the cooking tent from going up in flames. A frying pan caught on fire and Matt heroically grabbed it and dumped it outside, getting his face singed in the process. I got a nice picture of George Wahl and Geri Glander working the potatoes. And Terry Hagstrom, the guiding spirit behind this event, seemed to be everywhere as usual, helping out in all kinds of ways. Plus many other folks from our chapter were there to lend a hand.

But the vets themselves were the stars. I've never been able to count how many of them fish, it must be a couple of hundred. But their elation and excitement – “Christmas Eve” – never changes. It's a real joy to be there and see it.

When I wrote my first report in 2000, I said: “I'm not real sure why I ended going to that outing, for the first time. A guy can do lots of things on a glorious Minnesota Saturday in May – go fishing, mow the lawn, go shopping, or even just sit around the house drinking beer and watching TV. Well, yes, but on this Saturday I went to the Vets Home.”

I still think it's the best thing Muskies Inc. does, and I expect to see you there next year.

Above: A Vet who was so excited he couldn't sleep all night was rewarded with one of the first catches of the day.

Below: Vet's Home Opener Event Coordinator Terry Hagstrom (center) with some of the many VFW volunteers and organizers who help make this event such a success.

Bottom: Muskies Inc. volunteers serve the delicious trout “shore lunch” prepared by other members.

Reed's Sporting Goods - a Family Tradition

from Robert Junghans

For 15 years you lived above the family bait shop virtually on the shores of Leech Lake, one of the world's great muskie havens.

You learned to fish muskies from people like Doc Cotton and Dick Pearson and Bob Strand.

Your father is one of the all-time great salesmen of fishing and outdoor gear.

You won about every junior muskie tournament there was to win.

There are pictures of you at 6 years old, side-by-side with your father, selling fishing equipment.

With that kind of pedigree, it's only natural that Adam Arnold became a ... lawyer???

But wait.!

The story has a happy ending. Or, in this case, a happy beginning. For Adam Arnold now owns Reed's Sporting Goods, and, with his younger brother, Drew, operates this fishing and outdoor retailing fixture in northern Minnesota; now with stores in Walker and Brainerd.

First, however, we must flash back to 1971. Jeff Arnold and Kay Campbell were about to get married. As if the stress of a wedding and starting a new life together wasn't enough, they decided to buy a business – actually two of them – Reed's Sporting Goods and Gift Shop, both located in the same building in downtown Walker, Minnesota. Jeff ran the sporting goods store and Kay operated the gift shop. They used their wedding money as capital for the businesses. That's true love.

Over the years the sporting goods business evolved from fishing into hunting, camping and virtually every outdoor endeavor, along with a full line of apparel and foot wear for every activity. Kay's influence on the business was constant, and each time a new area was added, outfitting women and children for that activity was an integral part of the Reed's inventory.

Along with the business, the family also expanded. Adam was born in 1975, followed by Alissa, Andrew (Drew) and Angela in three-year intervals. All were steeped in the family business and its tradition of quality products and good service to the whole family.

Three years ago Jeff and Kay approached Adam, then a practicing lawyer in Minneapolis, and said it was time for them to start winding down. It took Adam a nano-second to agree to become the new owner of Reed's. A move back to northern Minnesota and to his roots followed shortly thereafter.

Drew, a student in the entrepreneurial program at St. Thomas University, soon became his brother's right hand in running the business. Drew's graduation thesis was, in fact, a business plan for the Brainerd store which opened one year ago.

"We make each other better," says Adam about the relationship between he and his brother. "We both have the heritage of good times with friends and family in the outdoors, and it is a privilege to help other families enjoy the same thing."

With that in mind, Reed's in Brainerd (it's actually located in Baxter, west of Brainerd on highway 371) has gone beyond simply selling sports goods and apparel. The expansive facility houses a restaurant, coffee shop and furniture/accessories/gift store that caters to the "cabin" lifestyle. Each of the shops is operated by a well-known local entrepreneur.

The Minnesota Fishing Hall of Fame is also located at the new Reed's store, and, within the Hall of Fame area, with photos of the greatest fishermen in Minnesota history looking down, the pros at Reed's teach youngsters a course in angling 101, outfit them with tackle and bait, and take them out to the stocked fishing pond behind the store to whet their appetite for a lifelong sport – all while Dad and/or Mom do their browsing and shopping.

"It's just an extension of why we call ourselves the 'Family Outdoor Outfitters'," said Adam. "This is a destination for the whole family to come and enjoy. The other family-owned businesses that are part of this are dedicated to the same philosophy."

In addition to its unique approach to marketing, the store also has a unique design. Lining the walls are enlarged fishing and hunting photos from the Brainerd/Walker area from years gone by. Down the center of store is a wood pathway that conjures up a sensation of walking a long dock. In the middle of the store is a large kiosk where most of the actual business, consultation, advice and general conversation takes place.

Nostalgia and a sense of community are everywhere, reflecting the history of Reed's, Minnesota fishing and the northern outdoors, generally.

Will this be replicated in the future under the watchful eye and direction of the Arnold brothers?

The walls of Reed's stores in Walker and Brainerd are lined with nostalgic photos.

"First of all," said Jeff, "the Walker store is the mother ship. We have a commitment to the town that goes back more than 50 years. We run our internet store out of there as well as the regular store. Dad and Mom are both still involved there."

"We've also learned to do one thing at a time until we do what we do better than anyone else, chimed in Drew. "Until we're satisfied we've accomplished that, we won't be looking for another store."

However, don't be lulled into thinking that the Arnold brothers are ready to rest on their laurels.

"Standing still is not in our blood," says Adam, acknowledging the non-stop internal "motor" that he and Drew both inherited from their father. "We do 21 sports shows a year, distribute over a million catalogs, do six direct mailings and run a full service online business [Reedsports.com] in addition to the two stores. As long as we have the passion and drive, we'll always be looking for additional opportunities."

When you're 30 and 23, with pedigrees as long as your arm and motors that never stop, it's not likely that the passion and drive will subside any time soon.

The Minnesota Fishing Hall of Fame is housed at Reed's in Brainerd. Our own Frank Schneider, Jr. is one of the honorees. The annual Hall of Fame induction is one of the premier sports events of the year in Minnesota.

All Woman Team Places Third in PMTT Tournament

The only all-woman team fishing the Professional Musky Trail Tournament (PMTT) schedule this year placed third in the most recent tournament of the series held May 21-22 at Lake Pomme de Terre in Missouri. The team, Terrie DuBé (TC chapter member) and Dianna Mindar, caught a "really fat" 43½-inch muskie, second biggest fish in the tournament, trolling in 60 feet of water around noon on Saturday.

"It was thanks to some great net work from my teammate that we even got the fish into the boat," said Terrie. "She jumped three times, swam around the boat, and was close to be hung up on the motor."

This gives the team a good chance to fish the PMTT championship tournament to be held October 15 & 16 on Lake Minnetonka.
